Education

Raritan Valley Community College, 118 Lamington Rd, Branchburg, New Jersey – Associate of Arts: Education P-12

August 2018 – PRESENT,

This degree path has me extensively work within the schooling systems of New Jersey, and thus gives me the chance to work within large scale classrooms and individual students in order to help create an active learning environment. This degree would also prepare me for further academic pursuits in History and Education. Furthermore, through the office of Service Learning available at RVCC, I was able to closely work with educators in the field and within active classrooms in order to get a more holistic view of what operating in an education environment entails.
